

Making a Natural Gas Choice

Choosing the right natural gas supplier and supply pricing option can be a daunting task. The typical customer often feels as though they lack the critical information or understanding necessary to evaluate complex energy market pricing trends. At NYSEG Solutions, we strive to make energy options more understandable so you can make an informed decision.

As a leading Energy Services Company (ESCO), NYSEG Solutions serves the entire spectrum of customers from residential to large commercial/industrial. We provide standard and custom rate options that satisfy a wide variety of needs and expectations.

We have the ability to purchase natural gas from April through the summer months when pricing is low and then store that gas for the winter months when the prices typically rise. This enables us to pass along the savings to you.

When shopping for natural gas, consider NYSEG Solutions as we offer competitive pricing options that bring you stability, flexibility, or both.

Our standard offers have key attributes that make them desirable:

- Fixed Price Natural Gas Supply Plan provides price stability in rising or uncertain market conditions. Regardless of energy market trends throughout the year, the price per unit you pay stays the same for 12 or 24 months.
- Market Price Natural Gas Supply Plan: Your rate will rise and fall with the market.
- Blend50 Natural Gas Supply Plan combines 50% market and 50% fixed rate options. Receive the benefits of both market flexibility and price stability.

At NYSEG Solutions, we are continuously expanding our product offerings and features to better meet the needs of our customers. The global energy market is a fast-paced environment, and we take our responsibility to our customers seriously by bringing you useful information, and products that have value.
